REPLY TO "MURDERER OF CZECHOSLOVAKIA AND POLAND"

SIR SAMUEL HOARE SAYS NO IMPARTIAL NEUTRAL CAN BELIEVE NAZI LIES

WICKED ALLEGATIONS BY HERR VON RIBBENTROP TORN TO RIBBONS

LONDON, Apr. 28 (Reuter)—Sir Samuel Hoare, the Secretary of State for Air, in a broadcast talk, referred at the outset to Herr von Ribbentrop's speech, stating that "Ribbentrop is a dangerous adventurer who has played a sinister part in public affairs. No honest man trusts his word, and no impartial neutral believes what he says."

"I need, therefore, only say that it is a despicable lie to say that we have ever plotted against any neutral country, and it is a sickening hypocrisy when this charge is made by the murderer of Czechoslovakia and Poland. Let me leave this man to his lies and come to the crime that Hitler and he are committing in Norway."

"They have challenged us to fighting this war on a new front, and have made Norway their battlefield. We have taken up the challenge and there we must meet them with all the resources that we can develop, all the power that we can muster for the fight."

"Let no one have any illusions. The war has entered into an intense and vital phase. The enemy will wage it without mercy and will give us no quarters. He will certainly not spare the brave people of Norway who have been so shamefully and so wantonly dragged into war, after generations of peaceful, progressive life."

"WE HAVE A DUTY."

"For our part we will not imitate his dastardly conduct. We will not let helpless seamen drown. We will not attempt to defeat the Germans by terrorising their women and children. But we will not leave him any monopoly of energy, still and resolution. We must show these qualities to a degree far exceeding the determination and ingenuity he displays. Nor shall we pay the least attention to any threats he may make. We have been given a duty that must be accomplished."

"Step by step the Allied Forces must destroy the German grip upon the Norwegian sea ports and air bases, and there must be put into the hands of the outraged Norwegian people, weapons and fighting strength that will drive the enemy from the hillsides and valleys, from the harbours and fjords."

"But if the task before us is clearly marked, that does not mean it is easy. Far from it. It will not be accomplished in a day and without sacrifice. The advantage the Germans won by their cowardly blow must now be redeemed by hard fighting, by vigorous action and by patient planning. And it will be redeemed."

GUARANTORS OF LIBERATION
Addressing the Norwegian people, Sir Samuel Hoare said: "The greatest naval power on the seas, the British Navy, the finest army in the world, the Army of France, and the most skillful and gallant Air Force in the world, our own."

Sir Samuel Hoare, fearlessly replies to tissue of German lies.

WE ARE NOT IMPRESSED

LONDON, Apr. 28 (Reuter)—Herr von Ribbentrop's speech and introduction of the latest German White Paper failed to arouse any excitement in official quarters here.

"The amazing fact that, no matter over what country the Germans extend 'protective influence,' numbers of highly incriminating documents are found is causing no little amusement."

AMERICA DRAWS A PARALLEL

NEW YORK, Apr. 28 (Reuter)—The commentator of the Columbia broadcasting system draws a parallel between the documents which Herr Ribbentrop produced today and the so-called Warsaw documents which are alleged to have involved American diplomats. He remarks: "The German Government seems to be fortunate in finding, whenever it goes incriminating documents involving, not only its enemies, but also neutrals."

BRITAIN'S STAND TOWARDS DANISH MERCHANT FLEET

LONDON, Apr. 28 (Reuter)—Britain's attitude towards Danish shipping was defined by the Minister of Shipping, Mr. R. S. Hudson, speaking at Southampton.

TOO SMALL FOR "QUEEN MARY"

CAPETOWN, Apr. 28 (Reuter)—The presence in Tablebay of the British liners Queen Mary and the Aquitania has aroused the greatest interest here.

The Queen Mary's present drab colouring rendered her size deceptive and many persons who saw her lying far out in the Bay asserted that she was too small to be the Queen Mary.

Joachim von Ribbentrop. His statement appears on page 7.

BOUQUETS OF POISON IVY?

SWEDEN MUST TAKE CARE

PARIS, Apr. 28 (Reuter)—Herr von Ribbentrop's statement is regarded here as of little importance and it is suggested in French circles that the underlying purpose was to impress one neutral country alone—Sweden.

It is declared that Sweden is handed the bouquets and is described as a 'higher country' while Norway is held responsible for everything that is happening in Northern Europe.

It is pointed out that there is a striking similarity between the present methods of the Reich and those adopted on the eve of Munich. Then, Poland was the object of German praise while President Benes and those governing Czechoslovakia were accused of all imaginable crimes.

For Russia's Benefit?

NAZIS SEND A "FEELER"

STOCKHOLM, Apr. 28 (Reuter)—Herr von Ribbentrop's speech came somewhat as a surprise to Sweden, in view of the recent accusations in the German press that Sweden, at least as regards the news expressed by the newspapers, had not observed the strict neutrality which Germany expects.

It is stated that Ribbentrop's speech, however, will not prevent the Swedish people wondering what is the purpose of the military preparations across the Baltic, at Memel and other East Prussian ports, or the frequent appearances of German aircraft over Swedish territory.

In some quarters it is thought that Ribbentrop's references to Sweden may have been meant for the ears of Russia who, it is reported, have made it clear that while she is satisfied with the role of spectator of events in Norway and the occupation of Denmark, she might be compelled to intervene if Sweden is involved.

JAPANESE SUFFER COLOSSAL DAMAGE: KAIFENG ATTACK

Damage sustained by the Japanese, as a result of the Chinese attack on Kaifeng, is estimated at $10,000,000.

Japanese military establishments, oil depots, ammunition dumps and provisions were destroyed, reports Central News.

According to a report from Loyang, simultaneously with the offensive on Kaifeng, Chinese troops made a sudden raid on Yangtsi and Shihlow, respectively 37 miles southwest and 50 miles south of Kaifeng, on the night of April 23. The Japanese who were taken unawares suffered heavily. During the attack a Chinese unit heavily damaged the railway west of Yangtsi.

Supreme War Council

LONDON, Apr. 28 (Reuter)—A communiqué issued from No. 10 Downing Street says that the ninth meeting of the Supreme War Council was held at London yesterday.

France was represented by M. Daladier, M. Campinchi, M. Lauréntyne, who was accompanied by M. Corbin, General Gamelin, Admiral Darlan and General Vuillemin.

Great Britain was represented by Mr. Neville Chamberlain (Premier), Mr. Winston Churchill, Mr. Oliver Stanley, Sir Samuel Hoare, who was accompanied by Sir Alexander Cadogan, Sir Cyril Newall, Sir Dudley Pound and General Ironside.

Representatives in London of the Polish and Norwegian Governments also took part in the discussions. In a short session the Council reached unanimity on a number of questions arising out of the present phase of the war. The Council considered various situations that might arise in the near future and took note of the measures planned to meet those situations.

Bridges and rails were blown up. Three hours later Japanese reinforcements were rushed from Tangshan, north Kiangsu town near the Honan border. However, they were repulsed with some 200 casualties.

In view of the intensity of fighting around Kaifeng large units of Japanese troops along the Tachou-Chinghua Railway, in north Honan, have been sent across the Yellow River as reinforcements. Taking advantage of the depletion, Chinese troops at Tsiyuan, Menghsien, Wenhsien, Tsiyang and Wuchih, along the western section of the line, have swung into action.

In the Honan-Hupeh border regions Chinese guerrilla activities are giving great annoyance to the Japanese. Three Japanese army lorries were blown up on April 19 by Chinese mines on the Sinyang-Yingshan highway. On the same day five truckloads of Japanese troops passing through Maping, a small village of strategic importance in north Hupeh, 23 miles west of Yingshan, were attacked by the Chinese. Over 100 casualties were inflicted and two trucks destroyed.

SANGUINARY FIGHTING
About 5,000 Japanese casualties have been inflicted in sanguinary fighting.

SCOTSMAN SHOT DEAD BY S'HA1 GANGSTERS

MR. W. C. CARINE, 55-year-old Scotman, was shot and instantly killed by two gangsters in the western district "haidangs" in Shanghai yesterday morning, according to a Reuter report.

Mr. Carine, who was the caretaker of the property, had ordered the men off after they had trespassed. The scene of the cold-blooded murder was near the notorious "Hollywood" gambling resort in the western district outside the International Settlement.

Detective Murdered

DET-INSF. LOH KENG-SHEN, senior Chinese detective at Bubbling Well Police Station, was fatally shot near his home in the International Settlement.

Police are puzzled by the motive. BOMBING ARREST

ITALIANS LIKE THE FRENCH

PARIS, April 28 (Reuter)—Forty thousand Italians living in France have petitioned the Italian Ambassador to appeal to Signor Mussolini to accept French offers to settle problems outstanding between the two countries.

The petition says it is the wish of Italian emigrants to see an Italian break from Hitler; they want to see their country coming closer to the Democratic countries.

TETRAZZINI DIES AT 70

TOOK LONDON BY STORM IN 1908

The death occurred in Rome yesterday of Mme. Luisa Tetrazzini, the famous singer, at the age of 70, states a Reuter message from the Italian capital.

Born in Florence, Mme. Tetrazzini, though famous on the Continent and in South America for years, was unknown in England until 1908, when she took London by storm.

The famous soprano sang for the "wireless" in London in 1925 and was "farewelled" in 1933.

She was educated at Liceo Musicale, Florence, under Signor Ceccherini and first appeared at Teatro Verdi, Florence, in 1895. She appeared at Covent Garden in 1907.

Her favourite operas were Lucia di Lammermoor and La Sonnambula.

Soviet Aid To China

Mr. Keng Tsi-chai, retired Chinese Consul-General at Vladivostok, is in Hongkong and, after a brief stay, will proceed to Chungking.

Mr. Keng, who is also a well-known writer and has translated many Russian works into Chinese, was the guest of honour at a reception given by the Hongkong Chinese Writers' and Artists' Association yesterday afternoon.

Interviewed by a Central News reporter, Mr. Keng said that since its Revolution, the Soviet Union has devoted full energy to reconstruction which has not been affected by the hostilities in Europe.

The Soviet policy toward the Far East, Mr. Keng observed, remains unchanged and material aid to China will be continued.

ECONOMIC BLOCKADE OFFICE IN CHINA

CHUNGKING, Apr. 28 (Reuter)—For the purpose of intensifying the economic warfare against Japanese-occupied areas in China, the Chinese Government is establishing an economic blockade office consisting of representatives of the Ministry of Economic Affairs, Ministry of Finance, Court Martial and other Government departments concerned.

Commanders of the various war areas will co-operate with the office, which will have inspection posts at all important water and land transportation centres. The Court Martial, in co-operation with the Gendarmerie Headquarters, will send inspectors to tour the various war areas.

Death Of A Theory: Sen. Borah Was Too Confident

LONDON, Apr. 28 (Reuter)—The New York Lippman Herald-Tribune, in an article entitled "Death of a Theory," refers to the late Senator Borah's confident conviction that the Scandinavian countries would remain at peace.

It points out the danger of being isolated and adds that isolationism depends on the control of the oceans by America and her friends and goes on "the latter day isolationists is a dangerous influence because, like the Scandinavians, they are running the bravest risk of isolating this country."

The Tribune, in an editorial entitled "British in Norway," says: "All significant data on which to base an estimate of the actual military incompetence in the situation is totally wanting.... If, Nazis."

the British are willing to gamble the lives of advance detachments it may be tragic for the men, but in war the essence is tragic cruelty. "The Nazis" coldly gambled the lives of men in the Skagerrak and apparently lost them by the thousands in the sinking and burning of transports which failed throughout, but, because one expects this sort of thing from the brute governments of totalitarianism. "All significant data on which to base an estimate of the actual military incompetence in the situation is totally wanting.... If, Nazis."

CHUNG HWA GIRLS WIN

The Chinese Girls' Basketball Team scored their third victory in Hongkong on Saturday night when they defeated the Federation Team by 35 points to 18 in a fast and exciting game. The only defeat suffered by the tourists was when they lost to the Federation last Wednesday by 23 points to 27.

On Saturday the visiting team were down 4-7 at the end of the first quarter but rallied strongly and forged ahead to win comfortably.

In an exhibition game which followed the Chung Hwa Club beat Eastern by 46 points to 34.

Lee Wai-tong Not For Saigon Soccer Tour

The news that Lee Wai-tong, local soccer fans, and the further news that two other forwards, Chan Tak-fai and Fowler, one of whom would normally have filled the vacancy at centre-forward, are both unable to leave, causes a further setback to the chances of the Interport team in Saigon.

The team was selected on Friday and it is still doubtful as to who will be chosen to lead the side in place of Lee.

The late inclusion of Bright has strengthened the halves, while Lee Tin-sang will give considerable power to the full back line.

The main weakness of the team is the lack of wingers and it is very fortunate that Ip Pak-wah is able to go. Yeung Shui-yick will be a useful substitute for Fowler.

Only three games have been arranged so far, the first of which is the Interport.

The following will represent Hongkong in the matches in Saigon.

GOALKEEPERS: Tam Kwan-kon, Sammy Tsang.

BACKS: Lee Tin-sang, Lee Kwok-wai, Hau Yung-sang.

HALVES: Forrow, Guy, Bright, Leung Wing-chiu, Soong Ling-sing.

FORWARDS: W. Pryde, Fox, Fung King-cheong, Yeung Shui-yick, Lau Tau-mian, Ip Pak-wah, Wong King-cheong.

Managers: Messrs. G. A. Goldenberg and J. C. Gungahin.

Entries close at 12 o'clock NOON on Thursday, 2nd May, 1940.

LITANY OF SECRECY FOR THE B.E.F.

SEVEN RULES FOR ALL RANKS

LONDON, April 16 (By Air Mail)—The urgent importance of the greatest secrecy in all military matters has again been impressed on all ranks of the B.E.F. in a new pamphlet entitled "Why Help the Enemy?"

SECRET WEAPON

Soldiers are urged to become security-minded. "When you give the enemy information," the circular states, "you give him power to destroy. Information is the only real secret weapon that Hitler can possess. To be security-minded is to thwart Hitler."

Information, soldiers are warned, which to them may seem out-of-date or trivial or obvious may be to the enemy the one missing link for which he is seeking.

"If you help the enemy, however unintentionally, the result will be the loss of life of many lives—your comrades, your wives and your children."

MAY CAUSE HAVOC

The following rules are given for all ranks to observe:

- (1) Be doubly cautious when you are with strangers. The most innocent-looking people may be spies. If a stranger buys a drink, British lives may pay the price of it.
- (2) Do not pass on the latest rumours. They can cause havoc and are often started by enemy agents for their special purposes.

- (3) Give no military news in your letters.
- (4) Beware of the defeatist mood.
- (5) Beware of arguments. Do not pose as a know-all.
- (6) Never fail to report anything that appears suspicious.
- (7) Never discuss military affairs in public places or in vehicles even with your comrades. Because there is no one in sight, it does not follow that there is no one within earshot.

PRISONERS OF WAR

Finally, soldiers who may become prisoners of war are warned to tell the enemy nothing more than their name, rank and regimental number.

"Do not betray lives with a heedless word," concludes the circular. "Do not give ammunition to the enemy."

"SHERLOCK HOLMES"

The famous case of the British crown jewels, the albatross of doom and the fiendish instrument of murder that strangles, crushes and vanishes—the super-crime of the century—showing at King's Theatre today in "The Adventures of Sherlock Holmes." It's Blanktown's best film show in some time, repeating the success of "The Hound of the Baskervilles," first of the 20th Century-Fox film featuring Basil Rathbone as Holmes and Nigel Bruce as Dr. Watson. The supporting cast includes Ida Lupino and Alan Marshal, Terry Kilburn, George Zucco (as Moriarty, Holmes' arch-enemy), Henry Stephenson and E. E. Clive.

"REMEMBER THE NIGHT"

Paramount's sparkling comedy romance "Remember the Night" will be shown at the Oriental Theatre on Tuesday and Wednesday starring Barbara Stanwyck and Fred MacMurray in the leading roles.

"Remember the Night," according to advance releases, is a gay story which gets serious at times but which maintains its comedy pitched throughout. It concerns a young assistant district attorney who is used by his chief in prosecutions involving women mostly because he has a way with them. He has an unbroken record for imbued with Christmas spirit, he goes bail for her so that she won't have to spend the holiday in jail, and then finds that she has no place to go. So he takes her back with him to his Indiana home for the holidays, meaning to resume the prosecution when they return. But he falls in love with her and thereby the complications arise. The picture has a well-known supporting cast will provide laughs and thrills from the beginning to the finish.

THE KING LAUGHED

Private Frank Raffa, of the Canadian Seaforth Highlanders, sat writing a letter home at the Maple Leaf Club, in Moreton-street, Victoria. He looked up and saw the King at his side.

"I wonder, if you would autograph this letter, your Majesty?" Raffa asked. "It would be a great joy to my people back in Vancouver."

Smilingly the King, who was in Field-Marshal's uniform, said, "I am sorry that I cannot do that, much as I would like to do so. If I once started there would be no end."

Raffa then said, "Well, sir, I hope you didn't mind me asking."

"Not at all There's no harm in trying," laughed the King.

A very impressive military funeral service was held on April 19, at the Hungjao Road Cemetery Shanghai, for the late Corporal John Gordon Rowell, aged 25 years, of the Seaforth Highlanders.

JAPANESE ATTEMPT TO CAPTURE LOSHAN

Chinese Units Fight Grim Battle Of Defence

NANYANG, April 28 (Central)—A bloody battle broke out near Loshan, about 30 miles east of Sinyang in south Honan on April 24 when 1,000 Japanese troops launched an offensive in an attempt to capture Loshan.

In spite of the Japanese fierce assaults the Chinese did not concede an inch of ground. Up till yesterday morning some 400 Japanese are estimated to have been slain in action.

On the morning of April 24, a thousand Japanese troops at Sinyang on the Tungshan-Yangtze highway in south Hupeh also made an attack against the Chinese entrenched in the neighbourhood. Subjected to counter-attacks on their flanks, the Japanese withdrew northward, abandoning about 200 dead and 100 rifles.

JAPANESE ATTACK

SIUSHUI, Apr. 28 (Central)—It is reported that with the aid of reinforcements Japanese troops scattered at various points in north Kiangsi on Wednesday night launched a general counter-offensive in an effort to break Chinese pressure.

The Chinese steadfastly held their ground, repelling attack after attack.

A Chinese mobile unit in north Kiangsi reports that it has damaged the Kiuksiang-Juchang Juichang-Tehun, Juichang-Wuning and Juichang-Yangsin highways at about one hundred points, wrecked six highway bridges, torn down at least 1,000 telegraph and telephone poles and killed over 300 Japanese guards. It has now extended its activities to the outskirts of Kiuksiang.

JAPANESE BEATEN BACK

KAON, Apr. 28 (Central)—More than 2,000 Japanese forces made a determined bid for Chienchow-hu, a strategic village east of Fenghsin in north Kiangsi early yesterday morning but were beaten back by stiff Chinese resistance after a full day's brisk fighting.

Several counter-attacks launched by the Japanese on other sectors of the north Kiangsi front were also repulsed by the Chinese defenders.

HEAVY CASUALTIES

LOYANG, Apr. 28 (Central)—Military reports received here claim that the Chinese inflicted a total of 5,000 casualties on the

Gandhi States His Case

BOMBAY, April 28 (Reuters)—Writing in his newspaper "Harijan," Mr. Gandhi states he is anxious not to embarrass England in her hour of difficulty.

He adds: All I want Congress to do through civil disobedience is to deny the British Government the moral influence which Congress co-operation would give.

Mr. Gandhi declared that working amidst suspicion and terrible misrepresentation on one hand and the prevailing lawlessness outside and inside Congress on the other, he had to think a thousand times before embarking on civil disobedience.

FRENCH POST ATTACKED

PARIS, April 28 (Reuters)—A German detachment today launched a daylight attack on a French outpost in the Vosges sector, preceded by a heavy artillery barrage which pounded the French garrison and necessitated the despatch of reinforcements.

The Germans advanced and fierce fighting ensued; though the French suffered losses, the post was held.

East of the Moselle a French detachment met a German patrol in No-Man's Land. Both sides suffered casualties.

In the Saar sector there was heavy artillery fire by both sides.

Saturday's French war communiqué says there is nothing to report.

WAR MUST BE WON

LONDON, April 28 (Reuters)—Mr. R. S. Hudson, making his first public speech on Saturday, since his assumption of the office of Minister of Shipping, said that everything was subordinated to the task of winning the war.

Mr. Hudson said one small branch of his department, had taken over for the Navy over 2,000 vessels from motor-boats to armed merchantmen.

Our losses through enemy action were only 3 per cent, and had almost wholly been made up by new construction, purchases from abroad and captures from the enemy.

Referring to the invasion of Denmark (where he said the Germans had looted everything of value), Mr. Hudson said that under international law the Allies had now every right to seize Danish ships as prize without compensation. Actually we had offered to hire Danish ship at attractive rates.

As regards Norwegian ships, a unified and central control over these vessels had been set up in London.

ITALY IS NOT ASLEEP

LONDON, April 28 (Reuters)—"The Italian Empire is not a mere onlooker in the present conflict, and has not been caught unaware," declared the Minister for Justice, Count Grandi, in a speech winding up the session of the Italian Parliament this morning, states Rome radio.

FRONT AT NAMSOS HAS NOW BEEN ESTABLISHED

British Beat Back Attack And Nazis Lose Men

LONDON, April 28 (Reuters)—It is learned in London on good authority that the front at Namsos has now been established.

In the Dombaas area the British were attacked near Kvam, south of Otta, and the enemy were beaten back with heavy losses.

The British troops then came under heavy machine-gun and trench mortar fire and withdrew slightly to positions less exposed.

In the Bergen area the Norwegians are reported to be holding positions in the neighbourhood of Voss, with the Germans advancing along the railway from Bergen.

INDIAN ARMY OFFICERS—The Germans have also apparently landed troops in Hardanger Fjord.

It is reported the Norwegians are resisting in the area of Ness, about 100 miles east of Bergen.

The Allied forces are making full use of Indian Army officers who have had extensive experience in mountain warfare.

GERMANS TAKEN PRISONERS—The German troops advancing north-west of Trondheim and those advancing north-west to Trondheim have been halted by the Allied forces, and the front has now been fixed.

On Saturday a number of German prisoners were taken in patrol encounters.

The Germans were beaten off with heavy losses, half way between Oslo and Trondheim.

ATTACK REPULSED—A War Office communiqué issued on Saturday afternoon confirms that between Oslo and Trondheim a heavy German attack was driven off, with consequent enemy losses.

The Germans maintained their pressure and attacked our lines of communication and bases.

In the Steinkjer area the position is substantially unchanged. Our patrols are active and have captured some prisoners.

GERMAN CLAIMS—BERLIN, April 28 (Reuters)—A High Command communiqué says when German troops reached Lillehammer and Trøsten on April 22 and 23 they encountered British troops for the first time.

The communiqué says the British, who came from Andalsnes, were completely taken by surprise and were defeated, retreating in the direction of Dombaas, and left arms and material behind.

It also claims nearly 200 prisoners were taken, including "a British troop staff and commander," together with important political and military documents.

The communiqué also claims a British landing party was attacked and defeated at Steinkjer and two British officers and 80 men captured.

In Pittsburgh, Pa., Walter J. Morrison filed a 10,000-word complaint against his wife. Remarking that it was longer than Gone with the Wind, Judge M. A. Musmanno countered tersely with a 68-word divorce grant.

CHOLERA SEASON APPROACHING

Campaign Starts May 1: Inoculation Urged

The Medical Authorities advise that the cholera season is now approaching.

IT WILL BE REMEMBERED THAT THERE WAS A SERIOUS OUTBREAK IN 1937 IN WHICH 776 OUT OF 1,401 CASES OF THE DISEASE DIED.

In 1938, although several hundred thousand refugees were added to the normal population there were only 547 cases with 363 deaths. The Authorities attribute this satisfactory result very largely to the co-operative attitude of the general public in the anti-cholera campaign.

Last year the incidence was rather higher with 708 cases and 448 deaths. The possible explanation for this lies in the fact that the population was estimated to be ten per centum either side of the two million mark in the middle of the cholera season, a large number of cases were actually discovered to have been imported from neighbouring territories and the debilitating effects of higher prices for foodstuffs and higher rentals were already making themselves felt.

This year the Authorities aim at securing a greater degree of immunity for the community from this essentially preventable disease.

This can only be achieved if everyone plays his part in the anti-cholera campaign.

IMPURE WATER

It is common knowledge that the "cholera poison" (or vibrio as the germ is called) is carried in impure water, contaminated food, by flies and other insects, by dirty fingers, by contact with the vomit or excretions of a patient suffering from the disease.

Hence, if we are not sure of the purity of the source from which our water is derived—and there are many polluted wells and streams in Hongkong—we should be wise to boil it.

We should avoid eating any uncooked vegetables which are especially liable to be contaminated owing to the methods of fertilising with human nightsoil which prevails locally.

Equally, we should exclude uncooked or partially cooked fish from our menu, since these are frequently collected in areas close to outfalls of sewers.

We should wage a constant war against flies, cockroaches and other insects which may carry the cholera poison from human nightsoil to our food. This means that we should not only protect our food from such insects, but we should keep our houses, yards and gardens free from any rubbish, manure or anything else which will attract or provide breeding places for these insects.

CLEAN HABITS

We should insist on everyone connected with the preparation and service of food being very clean in his habits, and washing carefully after going to the water closet. Clean kitchens, restaurants, foodshops, bakeries, etc., are very important. During the cholera season, we would be well advised to bring cases of diarrhoea and vomiting to the notice of our doctor or the doctors at the hospitals or dispensaries or the Health Authorities, so as to lessen the risk or cases of cholera remaining unrecognized and, possibly, infecting the household or neighbours.

The Authorities on their side propose to do all that lies in their power to assist the general public in a realization of the ways in which infection with cholera can take place and can be prevented. The assistance of the Press, schools, cinemas, radio broadcasts, posters, etc., will all be exploited to the full.

As in previous years anti-cholera inoculation will be offered to all who care to secure such protection as this measure can provide.

Those who possess their own private medical practitioner are asked to take advantage of his service leaving the inoculation centres at the hospitals, dispensaries and clinics to the general public.

Those who may need to leave the Colony would be particularly well-advised to obtain protective inoculation, since many overseas quarantine authorities insist upon valid certificates being produced—duly signed by the Hongkong Government Port Health Authority. We give a list of the inoculation centres below.

The anti-cholera campaign will be launched on May 1 and we are confident that all our readers will do their best to co-operate with the Medical Authorities and so prevent the loss of life and the suffering which we have come to regard as the inevitable accompaniment of epidemics of cholera in Hongkong.

FREE INOCULATION

It is notified that ample supplies of anti-cholera vaccine are now available, and that free inoculation against cholera may be obtained at the undermentioned places:—

THRILLING EXPLOIT OF MERCHANT CAPTAIN REVEALED

The thrilling exploit is now revealed of a merchant captain who on hearing news of the German invasion of Norway took the responsibility of bringing a convoy of 37 ships across the North Sea without naval escort.

Capt. Pinkney had arrived in a Norwegian fjord in his ship, Flying Dale (2,918 tons), of Whitby, to lead the convoy when he was informed by a Swedish ship at 9 a.m. that German troops were in Bergen. The fjord, where the convoy had assembled, was narrow and had little room for the 37 ships to manoeuvre safely while waiting for orders to proceed. A wireless message was brought up to the bridge instructing all British ships in Norwegian waters to sail immediately.

Capt. Pinkney turned his ship up the fjord and at that moment saw a German tanker, the Skagerak, come round its southern corner. As he described it, "she bolted back."

SCUTTLED HERSELF

With a few hours the Skagerak scuttled herself but he had seen her docks crowded with men. Here was proof that something unusual was happening so the signal, "Convoy proceed to sea at once," was hoisted.

The first job of Capt. Pinkney, upon whose shoulders the responsibility for 37 merchant vessels had fallen, was to get the convoy safely away to sea. In the convoy were 31 neutrals who might not follow.

Quietly the Flying Dale moved on up the fjord with the signal flying, turned at the end and moved slowly out to sea. Every neutral followed.

At 4.30 p.m. the Flying Dale sighted three warships' hull down on the horizon. Other ships of the convoy sighted them too and signals flattered out. "What do you intend to do?" Capt. Pinkney had to decide whether these were friends or foes. The warships altered their course straight for the convoy and he hoisted the signal to scatter. The warships, however, were a British escort sent to meet the convoy and 37 more ships reached Britain safely.—(BWS).

FIRE SERVICES INSPECTION

The Inspection of the Hongkong Fire Brigade and of the Auxiliary Fire Service, postponed from April 14, will take place on Wednesday, May 1, at 5.15 p.m. in the compound of No. 2 Police Station, Lockhart Road.

The Hon. Mr. N. L. Smith, C.M.G., will inspect the Fire Services.

Invitation cards should be presented at the gate. If any cards have been lost or mislaid, new cards will be issued on application to the Chief Officer, Central Fire Station, Hongkong.

Stole From His Employer

A Japanese, Fukujiro Tokuda, 23, a shop assistant at Tanaka's Studio in Peking Road, was sentenced to three months' hard labour by Mr. E. Himsforth at Kowloon Court yesterday on a conviction for larceny by servant.

The defendant pleaded guilty to the larceny of H.K. $650, on which charge he was sentenced. An alternative charge of larceny of $2,027 in Hongkong and Japanese currency was dismissed, the Magistrate holding there was no evidence to uphold it.

D/Sgt. Matches, prosecuting, said that on the night of April 14, the manager of the studio, Yochi Mitunaga, on returning to the shop at 12.15 a.m. found the safe broken into.

Tokuda was due to sail for Canton the same afternoon, but before doing so he admitted to complainant that he stole the $650, denying that he had taken any more money. Complainant had let him go to Canton, from which city defendant did not return until Friday when he was arrested.

In the interval, a wash amah had found in defendant's clothes a duplicate key to the safe. Defendant, on his return, was consequently charged with larceny of all the money lost from the safe.

Possession Of Secret Code

CHINESE OPERATOR IN COURT CASE

Bail of $4,000 was allowed at Kowloon Court yesterday when Leung Tze-hong, 33, wireless operator, residing at 81, Wellington Street, ground floor, appeared on a charge of breach of the Defence Regulations.

Defendant was charged with possession of two marked printed documents and one document with written characters, being telecommunication call signs that could be utilized for secretly conveying, receiving and recording information. Mr. W.A. Mackinlay appeared for defendant.

Two other men also appeared before the Magistrate, charged in conjunction with defendant with breach of the Defence Regulations. They were Lung Chi-kong, 29, wireless operator, residing at 44, Battery Street, 1st floor, and Cheung Sau-wai, 35, wireless operator, residing at No. 23, Sha Po Road, 2nd floor.

Lung was charged with having had in his possession on April 25, one document with English and Chinese characters on it containing for utilizing or recording information, contrary to the defence regulations.

Cheung was charged, in conjunction with 1st and 2nd defendant, with having on divers dates between February 25 and April 25 at Victoria conspired together to knowingly send or transmit by telegraph instructions for utilizing means of secretly conveying, receiving or recording information.

All three defendants were remanded one week, the first defendant on bail. Det.-Insp. A.E. Carey appeared for the prosecution.

H.K. DOCTOR CENSURED

A Government Gazette notification published on Friday states that at an inquiry held by the Medical Board on March 20, 1940, a resolution was duly passed that "it had been proved to the satisfaction of the Board that Dr. Pang Yu Ki of No. 13 Wongneichong Road, Happy Valley, had signed certificates of inoculation for cholera and vaccination in blank and permitted his dresser to deal with the same as he saw fit and that, in relation to the facts so proved to the satisfaction of the Board, the said Dr. Pang Yu Ki had been guilty of infamous conduct in a professional respect and that he be censured in respect thereof."

SUCCESS OF CONTRABAND
CONTROL

WHEN HERR HITLER openly boasted on the outbreak of war that no Allied blockade could affect Germany and that she was in a position to get all she needed from abroad, he failed to realise that the Allies had taken steps to bring their system of economic warfare to such a high pitch of efficiency that would provide an insurmountable obstacle to his plans. The "navicert" system, which makes it possible for all manifests of cargoes carried in neutral ships to be available for examination before such vessels are intercepted, was primarily intended to help neutrals and to cause the least possible delay to their ships at the contraband bases. The decision announced by Mr. Chamberlain recently to push the economic war effort to the limit, has cast the whole Allied blockade plans in a new perspective and while any undue irritation to neutrals will be carefully avoided, neutral shipping will be subjected to even a more rigorous treatment than hitherto in order to complete the Allied plans to close all supply routes to Germany.

FROM TIME TO TIME the Ministry of Economic Warfare has published figures showing the success of the Contraband Control in intercepting, examining and confiscating cargoes, which they had reason to believe were destined for Germany. How far do these published figures, however, reveal the full extent of the effectiveness of the economic war weapon against Germany? When the Nazis found that the tightening of the blockade in the North Sea made it practically impossible for them to secure the supplies they wanted from neighbouring neutral countries, they attempted to run the British blockade via the Pacific and Vladivostok. The Allied blockade was at once extended to this zone and the detention of two Soviet ships in Hongkong recently when it was suspected that the cargoes of copper they were carrying might ultimately reach Germany, shows that Allied vigilance in this sphere is just as active. It is in cases like this that the Contraband Control comes up against its greatest difficulties. Though the available evidence might be conclusive enough to prove that the cargoes under suspicion might legitimately belong to the countries to which the vessels intercepted belong, it has to be borne in mind that re-exports of such cargoes under a special licence is always possible and when neutral countries fail to fall in with the navicert system, the Contraband authorities encounter their most difficult and delicate task.

AS SOON AS WAR broke out in Europe, neutral countries naturally felt that the moment had arrived for increased exports. Germany herself, in Herr Hitler's words, had to "export or die." Now, with exports from, and imports into, Germany rendered almost impossible, Herr Hitler's economic advisers must be facing a very serious problem. In such circumstances, Germany's largest losses must come not merely from intercepted and confiscated supplies, but from the fact that several neutral countries,

Free Schools
Short Of Funds

Government, it is learned, has rejected the joint petition by 33 Chinese charitable organisations and individuals for special consideration under the new regulation governing school premises for 111 free schools in the Colony.

The petition stressed that the free schools were not in a position to greatly alter their premises to comply with the regulations and were on the other hand unable to find other suitable accommodation without going to great expense, such as was beyond their means.

More than 7,000 poor children are given education by the free schools concerned, whose supporters, it is learned, are preparing a new petition to be submitted to the Governor-in-Council.

The Hongkong Branch of the Institute of Chinese Young Journalists is planning to open a library for the benefit of both its members and the public. A campaign to raise funds for the projected library will be launched on May 5.

realising the effectiveness of the Allied blockade, are refusing to fulfil her orders. The statistics of the effect of the success of the Allied Contraband Control, therefore, though very heartening indeed, do not disclose the full scope of the way in which the Allies have used the economic war weapon. The effect of this has been to seriously curtail Germany's needs in the matter of oil, rubber, cotton, molybdenum and copper, for the contraband authorities make such searching inquiries as to the status of all consignors and consignees that have practically sealed up all loopholes in the blockade system. The stranglehold on Germany's economic life is undoubtedly being steadily tightened and when its full effect becomes more apparent, Germany will find it no easy matter to shake herself free to prosecute her war with any measure of success.

On Chih-wa and Hsiao Yi-ke, agents of Wang Chang-wel, were arrested at Shiukwan on April 27, says Central News.

They confessed that they received a monthly subsidy of $50,000 (Hongkong currency) through Mrs. Wang Chang-wel. Their duty is to induce the disgruntled politicians and army officers to join the Wang puppet regime.

They recently arrived in Shiukwan to do espionage work with an extra subsidy of $1,000 (Hongkong currency).

MME. CHLANG'S
NEW BOOKCHINA IN PEACE AND WAR

Anyone who has heard Madame Chiang Kai-shek in person or in broadcasts cannot but agree that her wide reputation as an interesting, direct and moving speaker is well substantiated.

As an equally brilliant writer, she is not so well known for she is disinclined to rush into print, and few have been privileged to read more than her introduction to the Generalissimo's Sian diary and a stray article or two appearing at long intervals.

From the press of Kelly and Walsh now comes a fine selection of her writings, "China in Peace and War." It is a beautifully produced book, printed on specially prepared Chinese paper made by hand from bamboo fibre, and bound in red silk in typical Chinese style.

The contents are varied and show her many-sided interests as a modern Chinese woman and her thoughts and feelings in the sweep of events as the wife of China's great leader. Written in vigorous and often striking English, they help to interpret the contemporary revolutionisation of China's face and spirit.

VIVID STYLE

The volume includes some of her writings during the period of unification prior to the Japanese invasion. She tells of the great changes that she saw taking place and of the plans for reconstruction and social betterment. There is an account of her own experiment in educating the children of revolutionary martyrs, and letters of travel, written in a familiar but vivid style, which make the reader see what she sees.

Many of her war-time messages and articles are also included. These have been written in the midst of the present titanic struggle, and their sentences throb with deep feeling and also convey the sense of courage, determination and level-headed confidence which have become characteristic of China and her people since Lukutichiao.

The price of the book is $8.—A.C.G.

CORRESPONDENCE

MURDERING CHINA

To the Editor: Hongkong Daily Press

Sir:—I have read with profound disgust the report of the Hongkong Eugenics League and the bold appeal made by its Secretary to Chinese women. More than disgust it is genuine horror that I feel for such bold advocacy of birth control practices. It seems incredible to me that just when my Country is invaded by outside aggressors there should be self-styled friends of my Nation to launch an attack from within, a treacherous attack which is the more dangerous in so far that it is camouflaged under the appearance of friendship.

China has achieved its greatness especially through the sound morality of its population, which has remained uncorrupted throughout thousands of years. If today we form the most largely populated Nation of the world, we owe it to our traditions of morality. To attempt to destroy our morality and to diminish our population, our man-power which is the strongest factor in our heroic war of resistance, is indeed a crime. The Leaders of our Nation have shown clearly what is their attitude to birth control, and I have only to remind my Chinese countrymen that when Mrs. Sanger and Mrs. H. Martin attempted to spread their pernicious propaganda in Canton, they were flatly refused admittance by the lawful authorities.

I admit that there is in Hongkong and in China a high average of infant mortality, but is this Nation the weaker for it? If a remedy is to be found for this infant mortality it must be sought in the improvement of the social conditions of the population, and not in birth control. I honestly feel that if the members of the Eugenics League should direct their activities to uplift the standard of living of our poor Chinese population, they would become indeed, benefactors of China. It is better housing conditions, more reasonable salaries, less exploitation of cheap labour, slum clearance, work for everybody—it is all this that we need, and not birth control, which diminishes our population, spread immorality and leave the poor in the same

Military
Band Concert
At Peninsula

The second of the Peninsula Hotel's Sunday evening concerts, given by the Band of the 1st Battalion, the Middlesex Regiment, drew a large audience last night and was a great success. Proceeds were in aid of the British War Organisation Fund.

The programme included many old favourites, such as selections from "Merrie England," "He-Wanted Adventure" and "Snow White." Friedemann's Slavonic Rhapsody was very well played, and the rendering of Eric Coates' delightful fantasy, "The Three Bears," a piece that has captivated thousands both young and old, was deserving of praise.

"Salut demeure," Faust's apostrophe to the house in which Margaret lives, from the third act of Gounod's opera, was well sung by Mr. Gaston D'Aquino, whose tenor voice was heard to advantage. Mr. D'Aquino, incidentally, is singing a leading part in the Choral Group's forthcoming production of "Cavalleria Rusticana" at the King's Theatre.

MRS. PORTALLION

Mrs. Muriel Portallion, contralto who has not been heard in public for some time, sang Elgar's "Land of Hope and Glory," which was received with great acclaim.

One of the most popular items was the accordion trio, consisting of Art Carneiro, George Flo-Uiski and Terry Lucido. They played three pieces, "Two Guitars," "The Rosary" and a medley of 1940 war songs.

The programme concluded with the Band playing the Grand Military Tattoo music written by Lt. Mackenzie Rogan for the Royal Naval and Military Tournament in London in 1939.

The Band was conducted by Mr. W. E. Kifford, A.R.C.M.

fighting in southeast Shansi, which has been raging since April 20, military reports claim. Japanese troops numbering 20,000 massed at Changchih, Changtse and Hukwan launched simultaneous attacks in an attempt to clean up the Chinese to the east of the Tsin River and open up communications between southeast Shansi and north Honan.

Severe fighting broke out at Kao-ping, southwest of Hukwan. The Japanese were defeated "on the night of April 23 with heavy losses. Japanese reinforcements rushed there in an effort to turn the tide of war were also routed. With their retreat entirely cut off the remnant Japanese scattered in the hills northwest of Kao-ping and were mopped up.

After this initial success, the Chinese counter-attacked the Japanese at Linchwan, southeast of Kao-ping. Linchwan was subsequently recaptured. With great speed they pushed toward Tsin-cheng, west of Linchwan. Many Japanese transport units were overtaken by them on the way and large quantities of Japanese arms, ammunition and other supplies captured.

misérable condition which is very often unworthy of human beings.

There is at least one consolation coming from the report and that is to know that the response of the Chinese population of Hongkong has not been up to the expectation of the League. Thanks be to the common sense of China which rejects spontaneously the false and harmful advice of these so-called friends.

RIBBENTROP PRODUCES ANOTHER "WHITE BOOK"

Says No Reason For Allies To Declare War On Germany

NORWAY SAID TO HAVE APPROVED PLAN TO SPREAD THE WAR!

LONDON, April 28 (Reuter)—Joachim von Ribbentrop, the Nazi Foreign Minister, again played the conjuror in Berlin on Saturday afternoon when, at a specially called meeting of foreign diplomatic missions and press representatives, he pulled another White Book out of the diplomatic hat.

In a speech to the assembled foreign representatives, which was broadcast over all Nazi radio stations, Ribbentrop said the German Government was issuing "documents of great importance, to the world public, and particularly for the governments of neutral countries."

Ribbentrop quoted various speeches by British and French statesmen which, he alleged, clearly showed that the Western Powers intended forcing neutrals into the war.

The Nazi Foreign Minister delivered a tirade on what he termed "the evil influence of the Allies in Finland's struggle for freedom."

ALLEGED DETAILS

Meanwhile, the German news agency was simultaneously issuing a statement that alleged details of Britain's intentions were to be published.

The publication, the agency stated, would be based on materials found after an engagement between British and German troops near Lillehammer, in Norway, on Monday last.

Text of this publication is not yet available, and no explanation is advanced on why British skirmishing troops should be carrying about documents which would, in any case, be history when the German troops invaded Norway.

Ribbentrop discussed the latest aspects of the international situation as seen through the eyes of the German Government.

He explained he had invited the heads of diplomatic missions and the foreign press to "inform them of documents which, in the view of the German Government, are of the greatest importance for the world public and particularly for the governments of neutral states."

Ribbentrop continued: "As the Allies knew from the very start an attack against the Western Wall could not succeed, they have been persistently trying to find a new theatre of war after the failure of their Polish allies."

"Documents seized by German troops in Norway establish further evidence of French and British plans to extend the war to the north."

He reported that M. Daladier and Mr. Churchill had given him a definite assurance that following the Finnish appeal, British and French troops would immediately leave the ports where they were being held ready, in order to land in Norway.

Norway and Sweden would only have been notified of this without the Government of either State being asked for its consent.

"On March 11 Mr. Churchill went to Paris by air in order to make a last-minute attempt to prevent the Russo-Finnish peace."

"The intentions of the Allies countries became even more clear when the German Government was informed of a private conversation between M. Reynaud and a neutral diplomat on March 30."

"In this discussion M. Reynaud was uncautious enough to declare that there was no longer danger in the west as during the next few days decisive action would be taken by the Western Powers in the north."

"Thereupon the Fuehrer gave orders for the German navy to sail."

ALLIED MINE-LAYING

Ribbentrop said the Allied mine-laying on April 8 was "just a preparation for the landing of a British expeditionary force which was already prepared to sail."

as well as the Foreign Minister, made statements to that effect.

NO REASON FOR WAR

"Not only these documents but many other actions taken by the Allies in neutral countries—such as acts of sabotage committed by the Secret Service in the Balkans—give proof of their intentions to spread the war wherever possible."

"Thus, since the beginning of the year, the Allies have been striving with every means to involve new countries in the war."

Speaking of the declaration of war on Germany by the Allies, Ribbentrop said there was no reason for this step! The German nation had always insisted and made clear its desire to live in peace and friendship with the British and French nations.

CHALLENGE ACCEPTED

"In the circumstances, however, the German nation accepted the challenge and is determined to see it through. The Allied plan to dismember the German nation and deprive it of political rights and economic possibilities will be resisted with all our power."

The smaller European countries were regarded as useful objectives by the Allies to extend the sphere of war and "hence a systematic campaign against the neutral system, has been started."

"It was Winston Churchill who, on Jan. 21, by his speech against neutrality and neutrals, launched this campaign."

Since Mr. Churchill's speech all statements made by British or French statesmen included demands to neutrals to participate in the struggle against Germany.

QUOTED SPEECHES

In support of this argument Ribbentrop quoted speeches made in recent weeks by Mr. Chamberlain, Mr. Churchill, Mr. Oliver Stanley, Lord Halifax, Earl de la Warr, M. Reynaud, and Mr. Duff Cooper.

Ribbentrop then referred to Finland. He described the British and French statements about their readiness to give assistance to Finland, provided Norway and Sweden would consent to the passage of troops over their territory, as "a downright untruth."

The German Government had knowledge of a report sent by the Finnish Minister in Paris to his Government on March 12.

NO DANGER IN WEST

He reported that M. Daladier and Mr. Churchill had given him a definite assurance that following the Finnish appeal, British and French troops would immediately leave the ports where they were being held ready, in order to land in Norway.

Norway and Sweden would only have been notified of this without the Government of either State being asked for its consent.

"On March 11 Mr. Churchill went to Paris by air in order to make a last-minute attempt to prevent the Russo-Finnish peace."

"The intentions of the Allies countries became even more clear when the German Government was informed of a private conversation between M. Reynaud and a neutral diplomat on March 30."

"In this discussion M. Reynaud was uncautious enough to declare that there was no longer danger in the west as during the next few days decisive action would be taken by the Western Powers in the north."

"Thereupon the Fuehrer gave orders for the German navy to sail."

"When, on the morning of April 9, German counter-action was carried out, I came just in time to prevent and foil an attempted Allied landing in Norway."

TRUTH AND RIGHT!

Ribbentrop also stated that when the British Admiralty learned of the German Navy's action in the North Sea, they decided to cancel the intended landing and to order the capital ships back.

"The British, however, did not succeed in bringing all their transports back and a number of them were attacked and sunk by German bombing aircraft."

Ribbentrop quoted Mr. Chamberlain's announcement in the Commons of the German invasion and said: "Gentlemen, in the name of the Reich Government, and notably in the name of truth and right, I shall now submit to you documents which prove that the assertions of the British and French rulers were nothing but lies and forgeries."

SOME CLAIMS

Ribbentrop proceeded to speak of the fighting in Norway, in which, he said, "the German troops have smashed through all the enemy positions and repelled the British and Norwegian and driven them back in wild flight."

He repeated some of the claims made in Saturday's High Command communiqué, and said some brigade orders seized "prove that the British landing had been prepared long in advance and that the order for the landing of the first detachment was given for April 8 and 9."

Ribbentrop concluded by repeating in summary form his earlier accusations against the Allies, and then copies of the White Book, containing the alleged documents referred to by him, were distributed to the diplomats and journalists present.

BRITISH PRESS COMMENTS

The Diplomatic Correspondent of the Observer writes it is no longer regarded as necessary to refute Ribbentrop by recalling facts, says Reuter. The facts are known outside Germany.

The interesting question is why did Ribbentrop invite the Diplomatic Corps to hear his tale? The probable answer is that, with characteristically elaborate technique, Ribbentrop calculated that the effect inside Germany, where his purpose exclusively lay, would be more likely achieved if he pretended not to be afraid by submitting his lies to a wider audience.

The Sunday Times, under the heading, "Flying in fact all facts" writes that the neutral world will approach with neutral scepticism Ribbentrop's attempts to "demonstrate" Germany invaded Norway in order to forestall a previously prepared invasion by Great Britain.

SPEAK MUCH LOUDER

The real facts speak much louder than these fictions. Following one of the shabbiest of German traditions, Ribbentrop tries to impute guilt to his victim, Norway, on the strength of alleged documents. This is exactly what Germany tried to do against Belgium in the last war. Nobody but her own credulous people and partisans was convinced then, or would be now.

In both cases the innocent country has been scrupulously neutral, in both cases Germany profited by its neutrality to overrun and snatch it and in both she has had the incredible meanness in bringing a lying charge against her victim. Perhaps the silliest thing of all is that accusation that Allied statesmen were plotting to seize Norway. Lord Halifax, for instance, is quoted as warning to neutrals not to ask Britain for aid when it was too late. So he did, but not to threaten them with any British action. What Lord Halifax plainly anticipated and referred to was the threat of German action. And have not the events as plainly justified his anticipation? All other passages quoted can be similarly explained.

ALLIED MINE-LAYING

Ribbentrop said the Allied mine-laying on April 8 was "just a preparation for the landing of a British expeditionary force which was already prepared to sail."

He added: "We have information that on April 9 Allied expeditionary troops were embarked to be landed at Bergen, Trondheim and Stavanger."

BRITAIN'S REPLY TO RIBBENTROP'S LIES

LONDON, Apr. 28 (Reuter)—It was officially stated in London this afternoon that the Ribbentrop "revelations" in Berlin are a deliberate perversion of the truth.

Regarding Ribbentrop's allegations in connection with Allied plans for an invasion of Norway, the facts are these:

1. It is true that the Allies, as they had already openly announced, were determined to stop the abuse of Norwegian territorial waters. Hence the laying of minefields.

2. Though the Allies sought permission for troops to pass through Norway and Sweden for Finland, they dropped the proposal when it was refused.

3. Far from the Norwegian Government deciding to join with the Allies, they refused consistently to allow the passage of troops to Finland.

4. If the Allies were ready to land troops in Norway (as Ribbentrop alleged), there would have been no delay. Such a delay there was, owing to the necessity of assembling troops and transports.

5. If the Allied laying of minefields was only preparatory to an Allied landing in Norway, the Allies would not have openly announced the minefields.

6. The German expeditionary force, as was admitted over the official Nazi wireless, sailed many days before the minefield was laid.

7. It is notorious that the German landing was made possible by its Secret Service activities and it is impudent to suggest that British agents had prepared for a British landing.

DELIBERATE ACTION

8. The British Government is anxious that neutral countries be protected against aggression but it is untrue that British desires extension of the war. No neutral has mobilised for fear of Allied aggression!

9. There is no doubt the Norwegian invasion was due to deliberate Nazi action which they now seek to justify by documents of which they admit they had no knowledge when they invaded Norway.

It is noted in London that Ribbentrop made no effort to justify the invasion of Denmark, which he apparently thought not worthy of mention.

ROME DISAPPOINTED

Special to H.K. Daily Press

PARIS, Apr. 28 (Havas)—Political quarters in Rome showed disappointment over the contents of Ribbentrop's speech speculating whether the severe accusations levelled at the Norwegian Government do not foreshadow stricter German action in Norway.

Amsterdam and Brussels classified the speech as an attempt to justify the Norwegian campaign in the eyes of the German people.

JUST A TRIFLE NERVOUS

AMSTERDAM, Apr. 28 (Reuter)—Herv von Ribbentrop delivered his speech in an uninspired voice and his speech also lost somewhat in effect owing to the absence of the usual Nazi legion of cheerleaders. When von Ribbentrop finished there was no applause from the diplomats and journalists present.

One foreign commentator described the speech as a "good detective story and nothing more," and listeners here were particularly struck by the complete absence of any mention of Denmark.

HOARE REPLIES

Force and the Fleet Air Arm during the past fortnight, Sir Samuel Hoare said:

"We have demonstrated our striking power by the bombing attacks upon the enemy's bases in Scandinavia. Stavanger, Kristiansand, Aalborg, Oslo, Trondheim, Westernland—all these air bases have been bombed and all have suffered heavy damage."

"That is what the Air Force has accomplished in the face of serious obstacles. It is a daily saga of the war against a determined enemy who often comes to attack in a superior force."

"But not against the enemy alone, but against fogs, clouds and ice, against cold and exhaustion, and against mechanical problems that arise even with the most efficient aircraft."

GREATER TASKS STILL

After stating that the Air Force would be ready for even heavier tasks in the future, Sir Samuel Hoare concluded by saying, "as for the Government, it must never waver in its resolve to win and hold mastery of the skies as well as the seas."

Pretence Is Dropped

PROTECTOR ROLE ABANDONED

LONDON, April 28 (Reuter)—The German Government has finally abandoned the pretence that it is "protecting" Norway and has openly declared the existence of a state of war between the two countries.

The declaration is contained in a decree appointing a Nazi governor of the occupied territory in Norway, Herr Terhøven, who arrived in Oslo today to take up his duties.

The decree was actually issued on Wednesday but was not released to the public till this morning.

It says a state of war exists owing to "the attitude of the Norwegian Government, and to the taking of military action under its orders."

Herr Terhøven will be directly responsible to Hitler and is given the widest powers.

RAID ALARM IN N. FRANCE

PARIS, Apr. 28 (Reuter)—The air raid alarm was sounded in north France lasting 20 minutes.

Today's War communiqué states there was patrol and artillery activity at various points of the front.

ATTACK FAILS

PARIS, Apr. 28 (Reuter)—Last night's communiqué states that in the course of the day we have repulsed several German patrols. A local enemy attack failed to the west of the Vosges.

AMERICAN "BLITZKREIG" TO TEST ARMY STRENGTH

WASHINGTON, Apr. 28 (Reuter)—Some 70,000 United States troops are being assembled at East Texas into an American "blitzkrieg" force for the Regular Army's most extensive peacetime war "games" next month.

BRITISH WITHDRAWALS WERE NECESSARY

Norwegian War Only In The Initial Stages

LONDON, Apr. 28 (Reuter)—The news that limited withdrawals have been necessary in southern Norway does not cause much concern in the British press this morning.

It is pointed out that in a major war, temporary setbacks give no clue to the final outcome of the struggle, and in Norway the struggle is in a very early phase.

It is conceded that Germany, through "treacherous" invasion, gained some strategic advantages and therefore one must be prepared for a difficult campaign.

But the determination of the Allies to press the campaign to a successful conclusion is unanimously reaffirmed.

GERMAN TREACHERY

The Daily Telegraph says treachery won for Germany the first trick of the fight for Norway, possession of the best ports and air fields.

The Allies had to improvise means of landing anti-aircraft guns, artillery and munitions, and were without one base for aeroplanes.

Much has been done to counteract that last defect by continuous bombing of German aerodromes.

The fight for Norway has only begun and we shall see it through. The help of fighter planes is one of our most urgent needs in Norway. The first batch of fighters has already arrived in Norway. This was a daring decision and they already suffered losses but have taken toll of the enemy.

PROLONGED BATTLE

The battle for Norway will be prolonged and fiercely contested. If the Germans reach Trondheim from the south they will establish control of the south of Norway for a time, but conquest of the north would be as remote as ever.

The Times says we are evidently in the very early phase of the campaign. The Germans enjoy the advantage of superior preparation. It does not by itself win the war but imposes on a more scrupulous opponent a handicap that may take a long time to make up.

CRIMINAL ENTERPRISE

The Nazis prepared their criminal enterprise with characteristic German thoroughness. The Times points out that a front has not been formed in Norway and the opposing forces may remain for days in the worst weather on the shores of the same fjord without certain knowledge of one another's whereabouts, and therefore "lack of precise information is to be expected."

The Times declares there is one strategic certainty, which overrides all other considerations. Where both sides operate in a foreign country, with blue water between armies and home, sea power in the long run controls the issue.

STOCKHOLM, Apr. 28 (Reuter)—Colonel Bratt, well-known Swedish military critic, reviewing the military situation in Norway for Reuter's correspondent, says that even should the Germans, contrary to expectations, break through Oster Valley, via Soeren to Trondheim, it is hardly likely that the connexion could be maintained if the Allies had capable transport facilities through Dombås by the Dovre line to Soeren.

The troop landings at Aadalnes and the railway to Dombås, therefore, constitute the central feature of the strategic position even overshadowing the events in Trondheim region itself. It may be expected that the Germans will make every effort to cut these communications and obtain possession of Dombås.

NO CHANGE IN POSITION

LONDON, Apr. 28 (Reuter)—The War Office communiqué states that in the area north of Steinkjaer the position remains substantially unchanged. Our patrols have been active and have captured some prisoners.

In Gudbrandsdalen a heavy German attack against the Allied force in the Kvam area has been driven off with considerable loss. The enemy pressure in this area is being maintained and air action against the Allied lines of communications and bases continues. There is nothing to report from the Narvik area.

NEW YORK COTTON: Heavy price-fixing of nears together with the scarcity of contracts is likely to result in further tightening of old crops. The question of export subsidy is very undecided and there is no prospect of an immediate action. The weather generally is favourable.

NEW YORK RUBBER: Prices again levelled off on scattered May liquidation on a thin market. Factory interest was less in evidence.

CHICAGO WHEAT: Hedging and realizing caused an early easiness but prices rallied on evening up by local interests. The strength of Corn market was impressive and foreign interest appeared to be reviving.

NEW YORK STOCKS: Previous close, 147.73; Today's close, 148.12; Change, up 39.

Six Million People Face Starvation In Hopei

Six million people are facing starvation in various parts of Hopei as a result of the famine brought about by the Japanese invaders, who broke many river dykes last summer in an attempt to flood out the Chinese guerrillas, according to representatives from the affected areas now in Chungking.

CROPS DESTROYED

One ton of millet, weighing 14 and a half cwt., formerly sold at eighty cents, has risen to $9 in price, because the autumn crops last year were entirely destroyed by the flood waters. For the past few months, many people have been forced to live on bran. In many extremely afflicted districts, the people are subsisting on bark and grass roots. All dogs and cats have been eaten.

To make the situation worse, Japanese invaders have frequently sent foraging parties into the villages to carry off foodstuffs found there. Many able-bodied Chinese men have been forced into military or labour service, the representatives stated.

NOTHING TO PLANT

With all stocks of wheat, originally reserved for the spring sowing, already consumed last winter as food, the peasants in Hopei now have absolutely nothing to plant in the fields. Before long, it will be time for the spring rise in all rivers. Unless the broken dykes are immediately repaired and grain distributed both for food and for planting purposes, people in Hopei will meet with their direst fate this year.

The National Government has already appropriated $1,500,000 for immediate relief, but more is needed.

UNDERGROUND IN LONDON

quickly. New stations are being built according to the most up-to-date architectural practice.

At the stations time-saving services, such as speedy escalators and ticket and change-giving machines have been installed.

To guard against war risks a vast programme of emergency work was undertaken by London Transport, the total cost being about £1,000,000 in London alone.

One of the most difficult problems to be faced in London was that of protecting the Underground Railways from risk of flooding, either from the River Thames or from sewers or water mains. Electrically operated steel flood-proof gates, of two types have been installed—heavy tunnel gates, of two types have been installed—heavy tunnel gates weighing 4½ tons to cut off passages leading into stations, besides concrete walls in the passages.

So successful has this work been that within three minutes of an air raid warning, these sections of the line in between stations running under the river, can be completely isolated.

HEALTH RETURNS

Twenty-nine cases of tuberculosis, six of dysentery, one of chicken-pox, one of enteric fever, one of scarlet fever and two of small-pox were reported to the Health authorities for the 24 hours ended at midnight on Apr. 26.

The following is the weekly health bulletin for Eastern ports.

Plague: Basseln 3 cases; Cholera: Basseln 2 cases; Calcutta 49; Akyab 1; Small-pox: Allahabad 3 cases; Suakin 1 death; Bhavnagar 1 case; Porbandar 2; Delhi 17; Jodhpur 3 deaths; Bombay, 88 cases; Calcutta 37; Karachi 3; Rangoon 25; Tellicherry 1; Veraval 1; Bangkok 2; Hongkong 6; Shanghai 3.

NO MORE WATER RATIONS

The heavy rainfall since the beginning of the year, is likely to bring about the long awaited relaxation of the water restrictions which had been in force for over a year.

It is learned that this will be announced in due course.

The total rainfall for the 24 hours ended at 10 a.m. on Saturday was 4.33 inches, bringing the total since the beginning of the year to 22.49 against an average of 10.55 inches.

Landlords Up In Arms

Strong representations have been made to Government by landlord interests regarding the proposed new amendments to the Prevention of Evictions Ordinance, it is reported.

The Legislative Council was to have proceeded with the first reading of the new Bill last Thursday. The postponement of action was due to Government's desire to study the landlord's representations, it is stated.

ATTACKED BY LANDLORDS

The new legislative measure is being widely attacked by the landlords, but no indication of the lines of which their protests are based is available.

The new Bill seeks to prevent landlords from passing on the new war taxation on property to tenants and places a ban on rent increases for the duration of the war in respect of sitting tenants.

The Russian community in Hongkong will hold a Cabaret Dance at the Peninsula Hotel on May 2. The dance is being organised by the Amateur Sporting Association to celebrate the Russian Easter and ten per cent of the sale of tickets will be donated to the B.W.O.F.

WuhuJAPANESE BASE
OF OPERATIONSWuhu, Japanese base of operations in south Anhwei, is threatened. Chinese troops have forced their way to the southeast and southwest of the city, cutting off the retreat of the Japanese columns driving in different directions, says Central News.Several Japanese transport corps were intercepted near Wuhu by the Chinese who captured quantities of arms and ammunition.Chinese troops re-entered Nan-ling, on the south bank of the Yangtze River in Anhwei, 32 miles southwest of Wuhu, on April 28.They started an attack in the outskirts at dawn. After overcoming Japanese resistance, they broke into the city by scaling the walls and cleaned up the enemy. Japanese casualties were 830.REINFORCEMENTS RUSHED "Japanese reinforcements were rushed from Fanchang, 16 miles northwest of Nanling, in the afternoon. Chinese troops in the city came out to engage them at Lungchuan-shan and Meishan-shan, northwest of Nanling.Japanese units driving southward from Tungling and Kweichih on the Yangtze River above Fan-chang, were intercepted and suffered many casualties. On April 25 after being reinforced they pushed toward Tsingyang, 22 miles east of Kweichih. Chinese troops are encircling them.DRIVE ENDS IN DISASTER
The drive by about 1,000 Jap-

TYPICAL NAZI
WAR METHODS

STOCKHOLM, Apr. 28 (Reuter)

According to reports appearing in the newspapers on Saturday, the German force which apparently reached Roeros on Thursday consisted of 200 men with tanks and armoured cars.
They are said to have seized three of the chief town officials and announced the place would be destroyed if a single German was killed.The Norwegian force thereupon withdrew some miles northwards towards Støren, and the remainder towards the Swedish frontier where 400 crossed the border and were interned.There are reports of Norwegian soldiers crossing into Sweden at other points, and the Norwegian authorities are stated to have issued instructions to frontier officials preventing able-bodied Norwegians from crossing the boundary.German Propagandists Working OvertimeWeak Accusations Against R.A.F. Scoffed AtAMSTERDAM, Apr. 28 (Reuter).—It is learned that the German propaganda authorities have this week-end ordered newspapers to intensify the campaign against the alleged British bombing attacks on open towns in Norway and Germany.Public opinion is being prepared so that the German air force can initiate "reprisals" against Britain at any moment that may be deemed advisable.Today's Voelkischer Beobachter, in huge headlines, declared "Brittain Again Bombs the Open Town of Oslo" in reference to the R.A.F.
raid on the German aerodrome outside the town.

NAZI THREAT

The newspaper repeats the allegations in regard to the British bombing attacks over Schleswig-Holstein and elsewhere, and adds: "Should the British continue with their attacks on non-military objectives, they will have a rude awakening one of these days and bombs will be answered with bombs."OLD LIE RE-TOLD LONDON, Apr. 28 (Reuter).—It is stated in authoritative quarters that the German wireless has been reiterating the old lie that British planes have been bombing non-military objectives.It is added that the German technique is now so well known that the only conclusion to be drawn from this is that the Germans themselves are preparing to take the step of which they falsely accuse the R.A.F.It is reiterated that no bombing of open towns or other non-military objectives in Germany by British planes has taken place.War Revenue

S'HAH NEWSPAPER PLANTSHANGHAI, April 28 (Reuter).—The cold-blooded killing of an Annamite constable of the French Concession police and a Chinese civilian and the wounding of six Chinese were the results achieved by a party of armed gangsters who raided the printing plant of the Evening Post and Mercury in the early hours today.The outrage, which had a political motive, was carried out by four bandits who had been calling at the plant as newspaper boys for the past fortnight to collect copies of the Ta Mei Po, the morning Chinese edition of the Post and Mercury.It was this disguise which enabled them to enter the plant this morning without being challenged.While two of the ostensible newspaper boys engaged the Annamite constable in the pill-box at the entrance to the plant in friendly talk, the other two men walked into the pressroom and threw several bombs.

THREE INJURED

Three members of the printing staff were injured by the explosion.
As the bomb-throwers were making their escape, the twogangsters at the entrance drew pistols and shot the Annamite in cold blood, killing him with two shots through the brain.All four men entered the car and drove off at furious speed.

TRAFFIC MAN JUMPS

A Russian constable opened fire with a sub-machine-gun, apparently without hitting the gangsters' car but slightly wounding three pedestrians.

POLICEMAN'S ESCAPE

The pace of the car caused a Chinese traffic constable to signal it to stop. The bandits pointed pistols at him and he skipped to one side drawing his gun, but the car was quickly out of range.In the getaway the car knocked down and killed a pedestrian.
The bombs caused little damage and the paper are being published as usual.RELATIONS NOW
COOLING OFF

AMSTERDAM, Apr. 28 (Reuter)

Signs that relations between Germany and Russia are cooling off are noted in the German press.
Nazi newspapers recently have given up expressing hopes that the Soviet Union will take further steps to aid Hitler.The Koelnische Zeitung and other papers spoke of the difficulties Russia is facing in working the Ural oilfields, for which brilliant prospects were prophesied.The impression is said to prevail in their Ruhr that Russia has been unwilling to take German technicians who, it was hoped, were to reorganise Russian production and transportation.One of the oldest officers of the Imperial Russian Army in Shanghai, General G. P. Jookoff died recently in Shanghai. The deceased was born in the Ormburg province.
In his youth he decided on a military career and with high honours finished the Nephew
Cadet Corps and the Alexander
Military School.In Elgin, Ore., a high wind sent Leo Carlson's privy tumbling to the ground. In it was Leo Carlson.
Said the home-town paper: "He found that the only mode of escape was through a porthole."Two windows of the Cheung Chau Island police station were shattered when a mine exploded 600 yards away on Saturday at 10 a.m. according to a police report.FOUR WOMEN DROWNEDFour female members of Hongkong-registered fishing junk No.
37220 were drowned when the craft capsized in a squall while at anchor in Nim Wan Bay on Apr. 25. The bodies were recovered and buried.A report was made to the Water Police by Cheng Kam-cheung, aged 28, master of the junk.MAN OF 70 IS CALLED UPLONDON, April 16 (By Air Mail)
—Ald. James Ray, who is 70, and one of the senior members of Oxford City Council, has been called up for military service. He stated yesterday that when the calling-up papers first arrived he allowed them to "lie on the table."
Then the authorities at Oxford notified him that he must report, and he rang up to ask for a bath-chair. After he had explained that he was born too soon it was suggested that he should destroy the papers. He has decided to frameThere was a large and re-
